Google Play The idea of journaling every day can be exhausting. Daylio helps to change this mindset. It gives you a number of prompts to answer instead of just giving a blank piece of paper. As the days pass, you can take a step back and see how your days went with the dashboard with your mood chart and more. Free w/ IAP at Google Play Habitica takes a unique approach to the habit-building process – it turns it into a video game! Habitica is designed to play like an RPG, with quests, unlockable armor, customizable characters and more. You come through the game and level up by completing your tasks/habits. Free w/IAP on Google Play The Best Workout Apps Source: Joe Maring/Android Central One of the most popular New Year's resolutions is to beat the gym to either bulk up or lose some weight. However, some apps do it so you don't even have to kick foot in a gym if you want to lose weight on your own pace. And what better way than with some ultra-powerful applications tailored to your needs. Google Fit has slowly become a fan favorite for fitness tracking users who want a nonsense way to keep an eye on their health. The app offers Health goals based on recommendations from the World Health Organization and the American Heart Association. There are even personalized coaching tips to help you get closer to the healthiest you can be. Free on Google Play Gone are the days when you have to worry about paying for an arm and a leg for a personal trainer, especially with the Nike Training Club app, that the offers various workouts that will help you know what you need to do to improve in different areas. And there are personalized training recommendations that populate the more you train. Free w/IAP on Google Play Perhaps the biggest hurdle in trying to lose some weight is your food intake. MyFitnessPal makes this easy because you can quickly find and find the foods you eat, with more than 6 million options in the database. Just set your weight target, and the app calculates how many calories you should eat per day. Free w/ IAP on Google Play Strava is the all-in-one running app that will appeal to Triathlon athletes. The app not only tracks your running workouts, but also bike rides and swimming while showing you new places to explore. Free w/IAP on Google Play The Best To-Do Apps Source: Andrew Myrick / Android Central It happens all the time. You start adding items to your to-do list, but they'll still be forgotten and then you have to hurry up and do everything at once. Or maybe you just need one way to take a short note for easy access later. These productivity apps help you track your tasks or more detailed projects. Keeping track of your various tasks and projects can be a real pain, but with Todoist all your concerns can be put to rest. The app makes it easy to quickly type a task while offering the ability to create projects, tags, and more, so your to-do list is always organized. Todoist even allows integration with apps like Gmail, Slack and more, so you can add the necessary tasks as soon as they appear. Free w/IAP on Google Play Keep your Evernote and your TickTick. Google Keep is with me at the end of the line and it's 100% free. Keep is another Google app to see a visual update this year, and while I'm still waiting for a dark theme, the advanced 12 color options, adding subtasks to checklists, and improved drive integration make Keep the only task manager and inspiration board I use. Free at Google Keep Have you always wanted to grow a tree on your smartphone? With Grow, you can do just that and grow as many trees as you can imagine. This habit tracker is simple and straightforward to track you and remind you of habits you want to track. Every time you complete the habit, your tree will gradually grow, giving you something to look forward to. Free at Google Play Any do is an app that aims to keep you organized through to-do lists, and delivers a nice experience of doing so. You can create multiple lists and create each list with Customize tasks that you need to perform. Free w/IAP on Google Play The Best Learning Apps Source: Andrew Myrick/Android Central Together with Keeping Your Mind Sharp, They Will Want to Train Your Brain and Yourself to Learn Something New All the Time. Whether it's learning a new language or figuring out exactly what quantum physics is, there's an app for it. Or maybe you just want to have a Book condensed into a 15-minute session that gives you the most important points. Duolingo is one of the more powerful apps in the Play Store because it teaches you how to speak and understand a new language in no time. The app is free and offers more than 30 different languages to learn while helping you push the boundaries of what you can already speak. Free w/IAP on Google Play There is Wikipedia and then there is WolframAlpha. The mobile app provides instant knowledge and even calculation for almost everything you want to know. The categories range from basic mathematics to quantum physics to geology. Only if you take 5 minutes of each day, you can learn how to program you faster and more efficiently than ever before. Mimo allows you to learn programming at your own pace while learning a range of programming languages from Python to HTML, PHP, CSS and more. Then you can start creating your own apps and websites in no time. Free w/IAP on Google Play The Best email Apps Source: Daniel Bader /Android Central Emails are simply the worst form of communication. Instead of receiving the spam flyers in your mailbox, you'll now receive ads and spam in your email inbox. However, some rely so much on emails that they have become a way of life. And these people need an app that makes organizing and consolidating emails easy, so you can finally reach the fabled Inbox Zero. Gmail is one of the best apps, no matter which platform you prefer. Google has figured out how to do email the right way with its Gmail application, and you get many different tools at your disposal. And you're not even limited to using your Gmail account in the app as there's no support for Outlook, Yahoo, or other IMAP/POP accounts. Free w/ads on Google Play Microsoft Outlook was once thought of as a reflection, but no longer as Microsoft has set in time to make this app great. With the Focused Inbox, you can take care of the important things while including a calendar alert and a OneDrive file manager in a single app. Outlook makes it easy to keep your day organized and make sure you never miss anything. Free w/ads on Google Play Newton Mail has an ups and downs after being purchased several times, but now it's back with new (and private) owners. The app is fantastic in handling your email with a minimalist approach, and has a whole host of useful features to triage these annoying and annoying emails. Free w/IAP on Google Play The email inbox has become a way for spam to make it into our lives and prevent us from seeing important emails. Spark Mail's email prioritization has removed these concerns, and it's easier than ever to reach the always elusive inbox of zero. Free on Google Play The best apps for driving Source: Joe Maring / Android Central Unless you've lived in the same place for the last 15-20 years, chances are you won't remember the right way to get anywhere OR maybe you need to get a ride from the train station to the hotel and you haven't rented a car and don't want to drive a taxi. These travel apps make it easy to do everything you need to do, and then some. When it comes to getting to your destination, there's no app that's better at navigating than Google Maps. The service is one of the most accurate mapping apps available and contains additional information such as real-time transit updates. A recent update even makes it possible to order an Uber or Lyft if you need a ride somewhere. Free on Google Play With nearly 7 million downloads, it's easy to understand why Uber has taken over the world of ridesharing. The service is available in more than 600 cities, and it's easier than ever if someone can pick you up without taking a taxi or bus. Free on Google Play The biggest advantage of MAPS.ME is not the navigation benefits of the app, but the ability to download all your apps for offline use. You won't be able to see the flow of traffic in real time, but you can go anywhere you need to go. Cards.ME even works for the transport of public transport in an unknown city. Free w/IAP on Google Play Everyone remembers the old days when they had to charge the MapQuest website and print directions. These days may be behind us, but MapQuest still hangs around with a super useful Android app for all your navigation needs. Free w/ads on Google Play The Best Calendar Apps Source: Android Central Nobody wants to miss this important doctor's appointment, but if you haven't written it down somewhere, it's a possibility. With a mobile calendar, it is possible to organize your day quickly and easily while being reminded of this important meeting. These apps can be tailored to your needs and show you the most important information about how your day will go. Google Calendar itself is already a great way to track your daily, weekly and monthly appointments. Then add the integration with Gmail and you'll automatically receive events added from your email inbox. Google also integrates reminders so you never miss a task, and you can even add personal goals that are automatically scheduled. Free on Google Play aCalendar interface is one of the best and most beautiful you can find. Add how intuitive it is to quickly add events and take a look at different views, and you'll have a homerun. The only downside is that you need to stick to Google's calendar services to take advantage of a calendar. Free w/IAP on Google Play Unlike other options, DigiCal works with many of the Calendar services such as Google, Outlook, and others. The app provides the schedule for many popular sports, so you always know when the next game is. You can also view detailed weather information for each day so you know if you should bring a raincoat. Free w/IAP on Google Play Any do already offers one of the best to-do apps in the Play Store, but the developers also released a pretty great calendar app. With different views available, makes Any.do calendar makes it easy to figure out what you need to do so you don't miss these appointments. You can also view an overview of your calendar events along with your to-do lists for an all-in-one productivity tool. Free w/IAP on Google Play The Best Apps to Backup Files Source: Daniel Rubino/Android Central You don't want to get stuck in the dark trying to find the file you could have swear downloaded but buried. Our smartphones are literally pocket computers and it is important to keep these downloaded files properly organized. Besides, it's always nice when an app can analyze your files and photos and offer to delete them without you going through them one by one. Google Drive is just one piece of the puzzle that is Google's productivity work-work suite of applications. Here you can find all your different documents and use them as a backup for projects created on your phone or computer. Then you can view your files regardless of your Internet connection. Free w/IAP on Google Play While you start with just 5GB of storage, OneDrive automatically updates its Office 365 subscribers to a whopping 1TB of storage. This is perfect to back up all your documents, tables and even your photos. Simply turn on camera upload and you get automatic backups for your photos taken on your Android device. Free w/ IAP on Google Play Dropbox was one of the first cloud storage options made available to the masses, and the company is still rolling along. The 2GB boot storage limit is a bit low, but signing in for Dropbox Plus (9.99 USD per month) gives you up to 2TB of storage space. There are apps for iOS, Android, Windows and Mac, so your files are synced and available everywhere. Free w/IAP on Google Play There are many ways you can upload files and images, but not all of these options are great with encryption. Mega's user-controlled method of encrypting these private files is distinguished here. Without paying a penny, you get 50GB of storage for free, or you can go all the way up to 15TB of cloud storage for everything and everything you ever need. Free w/IAP on Google Play The best PDF scanner apps Source: Android Central If you go to an event or have many meetings with new business partners, chances are that you will end up with a lot of business cards that go in a drawer. With these PDF scanners, you can capture a quick image and then immediately have a digital business card that is added to a contact or used for later can be saved. Office Lens quickly and easily captures these images of documents and business cards and turns them into PDFs. Then you can save them to your OneDrive account or even directly to your device. After conversion, your images can be edited and optimized or annotated until the end of time. Free on Google Play Adobe has Hands in many different pots, and with Adobe Scan you can scan almost anything and have it converted to a PDF file. With Intelligent Scan, the app can detect contact information and remove unnecessary scribbles or search for something specific. Free on Google Play CamScanner made a name for itself just by being great at what it does and just working. Simply scan a document with your camera and the app will automatically crop the image into an editable PDF file. This works with business cards, documents or even drawings that you create, and gives you the ability to save everything. Free w/ IAP on Google Play Simple Scan is one of those PDF scanners that have been available in the Play Store for years. The app is one of the easiest ways to scan and share documents without jumping through a pile of tires. Scan your document, convert it to PDF, and then share it or back it up to Dropbox, Google Drive or other cloud services. You can even use Wi-Fi to send the document to your computer. Free w/IAP on Google Play The Best Writing Apps Source: Android Central It doesn't matter if you're an author or just an office grunt, you need to put words to paper for a reason at some point. Some apps allow you to do just that, while these pages are later saved for reference. Or maybe you're already an author and want to learn more about the world of Markdown writing without any additional distractions. Regardless of the situation, there is an app that allows you to sit down and write. Google Docs can be a simple text editor or something you write your first book in. There are a number of tools you can use to customize your documents to fit the format you want. And best of all, every letter or character you type is automatically saved as you move. Free with Google Play Not only do you get the power of Microsoft Word on your mobile device, but the app also acts as a mobile PDF reader. With the new Microsoft Office, you can create, edit, and view all your various Microsoft documents from Word, Excel, and more. The best part is that you don't have to worry about installing a variety of different apps. Free w/IAP on Google Play When it comes to finding the right markdown editor, the choices are a bit slim, but IA Writer makes everything easier. Get rid of all the distractions and just let your mind put words on paper without bothering you. In addition, there is cross-compatibility with various platforms such as Windows, Mac, and of course, Android. Free w/IAP on Google Play It can be difficult to Text editor, but Jotterpad fits the bill quite nicely. You can change the typography to provide a personalized experience in writing. In addition, all of your work syncs in the cloud so you can catch up exactly where you left off when an idea comes to mind. Free w/ IAP on Google Play The Best Voice Recorder Apps Source: Joe Maring / Android Central Nobody likes Idea or thought or reminder to do something. Or maybe you want to verbally embed some ideas instead of putting them in something like a Google Doc or Task Manager. Voice recorders make it easy to start them and just talk, and some of them even cut out the silence during your breaks. With all Of Google's advances in AI technology, it would make sense for the company to publish the smartest voice recorder. This new app is limited to specific pixel devices, but includes features such as real-time transcriptions while offering suggestions for tags. There could even be an update in the works that allows users to record calls for later use. Free on SmartMob's Google Play Smart Recorder is one of the best options in the Play Store if you just want a clean voice recorder. The app records in the highest possible audio quality while skipping silent recordings without having to move fast. Then the recordings are safely stored in a tidy interface, where you can edit the title and add notes. Free w/IAP on Google Play Have you ever had an idea that was amazing and then it just disappeared before you could enter it? Idea Note helps solve this problem with a floating widget that provides quick shortcuts to set a reminder, record a note, and more. With Idea Note, you can even take a quick picture with the app and get easy access to it at any time. Free w/IAP on Google Play Similar to how Google has released its own Voice Recorder app for Pixel devices, Samsung has done the same for its Galaxy devices. The app records your voice and then displays your recordings in a list view. It even makes it easy to convert your language to text. Free on Google Play The Best Trip Apps Source: Andrew Myrick / Android Central Let's jump in the car and prepare for this road trip we've been planning all year round. But before you get on the road, make sure you're ready to keep your eyes on the road, be it up to date on your oil changes, and find the cheapest gas wherever you are. Or maybe it's time to find your next road trip mobile and get a new car that you can bring home, and you can do it a more easily than ever. Focusing on the road while driving is the most important object, but it is made even more difficult by all the notifications on our phones. Android Auto removes the distractions and gives users the ability to focus on the road and its destination while reading out the important notifications. You don't even need a dedicated Android Auto Unit to take advantage of this as your phone can be mounted and uses the same interface. Free on Google Play Nobody wants to pay an arm and a leg for gas, let alone run out of gas at the wrong time. GasBuddy finds the cheapest gas stations in your area and gives users the opportunity to use different reward programs. Once logged in, users can join Pay with GasBuddy and, at the first refueling, can start up to 15 cents per gallon and up to 5 cents per per when to visit afterwards. Free on Google Play Whether you're on business or just want to keep track of your vehicle maintenance, Fuelio does it all. The app offers input to track car costs, service appointments, mileage and more. The trip log functionality uses the built-in GPS tracker so that the information is as accurate as possible. Free on Google Play Almost every car has a CarFax report available, which not only tracks all accidents, but also the services provided. With this app, users will be able to track all auto repair and service history information, along with getting warnings when the car is overdue for an oil change or tire rotation. Free on Google Play After dealing with traffic, finding a parking space can be one of the most frustrating aspects of driving in the big city. SpotHero alleviates these concerns by allowing you to book a parking space in advance and giving users instructions on how to get there. In some cases, users can save on parking fees by booking with SpotHero instead of paying after arrival. Free on Google Play The Best PC Extension Apps Source: Harish Jomnalgadda / Android Central It would make sense that there are apps that integrate with your phone and computer so that they work as one. Instead of having to pick up your phone every time a notification comes through, you can get the same notification on your computer so you can focus on what you're doing. AirDroid does everything you want to do when syncing a phone to a computer. Once set up, users can transfer files, manage SMS and contacts, and even make or answer calls from the computer. There are even remote access features, so you can leave your phone in the other room, but search for something. Free w/IAP on Google Play In addition to providing expected services such as file transfer, notification mirroring and SMS messaging, Join does much more. The obvious advantage is Tasker integration, because Join is made by the same developer as Tasker. But after setting up, the possibilities of what users can do without needing their phone is truthfully endless. Free / 4.99 USD on Google Play Pushbullet has been around for so long, it is easy to forget that it was the de facto choice for those who wanted to text from their computer or send links between their phone and their PC while it's easy to reply to these text messages or group chats. Free w/ IAP on Google Play The Best Video Calling Apps Source: Harish Jonnalagadda/Android Central How long has it been since you have your after you moved away? With video chat apps, you can pick up the phone and see your family and friends even though you're miles away. Some apps offer additional benefits such as seeing who is on the video chat before they respond, while others are just easy and get the job done. Who wants in the middle of a video chat and the picture becomes something from 2008? Google Duo ensures that its users have the best possible video quality, along with other benefits such as low light mode, knock knock for previewing calls and end-to-end encryption. And if you don't want to make a video call, you can convert the call to audio so you can continue to have the conversation. Free on Google Play Facebook Messenger has become the default messaging platform for many, and for worse or bad, the app continues to impress. In addition to its role as a messaging platform, Messenger can handle SMS messages and even video calls. If the video call is with a Facebook friend, you can be ready to use in no time. Free w/IAP on Google Play Skype has been extensively updated over the years and is moving towards the 11 million download markers. Voice calls, video chats, smart messaging and even SMS are possible with Skype. In addition, there is cross-platform compatibility so that users can take advantage of its features, regardless of the type of their Android phone or computer. Free on Google Play Although AOL has kicked the bucket, Google Meet is still hanging around and is a fantastic way to have video meetings at work or chats with your friends and family. With Meet, there's support for groups of up to 250 people, and you can record your meetings and have the recordings saved directly to your Google Drive. Free on Google Play There is literally an app for everything when you browse the Play Store, you will find thousands and thousands of apps that look interesting and different from the normal ones. There are many different categories of apps to discover, and we are always looking to check out the next cool and hip app. It can be difficult to go through and find the best applications for any situation, but we are grateful for the options offered. Some of these apps can even improve the best cheap Android phones and make that cheap phone feel like a flagship. Without applications, our phones would only be phones and there's the fun? Whether you love mobile gaming, get things done or just sit back and catch up with your favorite show, there's an app for that. And while some applications may work for me or you, this won't work with your buddy or grandmother. There are just some of the best apps you can find today, but we are always looking and hoping for new and exciting apps to reach the Play Store. Save.
